COVID-19 Response Updates
As previously determined, the Library will remain closed until further notice. Executive Director Godber continues to work closely with the State Library, other professional Library associations and colleagues, and public health experts to make recommendations for future action as the situation unfolds. A building reentry and Branch reopening plan has been made to begin whenever the CDC lifts the ban on gatherings of groups of 10 or more people.

Since the Governor’s order that went into effect on April 6th, 2020, all staff have been required to work from home rather than from the Library buildings. Executive Director Godber is the only employee still checking the mail and checking in on the physical Branches. Administrative staff continue to work flexible, but full-time schedules. Part-time and full-time non-Administrative staff are expected to check in regularly by email with their Supervisors for a variety of work tasks and training assignments. All staff continue to express sincere gratitude for their jobs and for the unwavering support of the Board of Trustees during this unprecedented crisis.
